Randolph Shotwell.
A Paper for the People.
RALEIGH, (THE STATE CAPITAL) N. C.
FEBRUARY 18, 1885.

Terms: $2.00 a year. Persons at a distance can deduct 10 cents to pay for registering their letters. No danger of loss.

Office two doors below Tucker's Hall.
Local advertisements inserted for two cents a word, each week.

Col. Wilson, who commanded the expedition which went up to Kharoum in three steamboats, has a brother living at Outhbert, Ga.

It was not for telling tales out of school we might mention that Lawyer Henry Henderson is seen up this way nearly every Saturday afternoon.

Sober, and experienced drug clerk can get a good place and good wages in a flourishing town not far from Raleigh by writing to Farmer and Mechanic, giving full details as to qualifications.

Wade Harris' humorous description of the "break-neck speed" on the road which Bill Arp described as "8 hours long and 48 miles short," has set all the State to laughing. The road will be known as "Old Man Gruber" from this on.

Dr. W. H. Davis, of Kittrell, with his family, went with last week en route to Lenoir, where he will spend the year, and may possibly locate. He is of well known family in Central Carolina and will be an acquisition to our Caldwell friends.

In the midst of the snow storm last week, you no doubt abused the draft of your stove, and condemned such weather; whereas Maj. Winder sent a freight train for FIRE-WOOD. And when it came, he told the Young Men's Christian Association to pass at least 50 cords among the poor. The poor may not thank him; but he does it every year.

Duncan Melver Esq., one of our good looking young friends from Moore county, was in town yesterday weighing 1,180 pounds. The extra thousand pounds came down the road in the shape of tobacco, raised near Sanford, and being from a good locality, in a good county, by a good man brought to a good market it ought to have fetched a good price and we reckon it did.

We hear the name of Maj. John Robinson, (President of "Dixie Fair," and member of the State Board of Agriculture) mentioned in connection with the Collectorship of the 6th. Rev. Dist. of N. C. It is said he will have the support of Congressman Bennett, Justice Ashe of the Supreme Court, Gov. Seales, Speaker Holt and a great many other prominent gentlemen. Well, he is honest, competent, and reliable, we feel sure.

We have not printed the story of the little German peddler who was reported torn in pieces by dogs (set upon him by negroes) in Granville county, because we do not believe it. It is true that a little old peddler has been tramping through Orange and Granville for several years past. But the tale first appeared in a northern paper and none of our local papers have confirmation of it. The Farmer and Mechanic has never been slow to get the news, as our readers will admit. But, in view of the damage done to our state, and to communities in it, by the hasty publication of doubtful rumors, we shall endeavor to be sure we are right before we go ahead.

Music and mirth and brightness (three styles; but particularly bright eyes) and enjoyment, held sway in St. Mary's Hall last night as the pretty, demure of that "Abode of the Muse" sang away the souls of the young members of the Legislature, and made even the married men reflect upon Mahomet's maxim that if one wife be good, two must be a deuced do better.

The entertainment was given in compliment to the Governor, State Officers, and General Assembly; and we feel sure from casual remarks that the venerable institution proved herself well up with the first in the land.

The firm of Williamson & Trench needs no compliment at our hands. Beginning in the dark days directly after the war it has advanced year by year until you can find the names of Capt. Bailey P. Williamson and Wm. G. Upchurch connected with nearly every leading industry of Raleigh. They have made money, of course, and this is an offense to none; but really when you come to think of it—what better citizen is there than he who is thrifty and uses the earnings of his thrift to enlarge the business growth of his community?

Messrs. W. & U. advertise nearly 20 varieties of Fertilizer; together with formulas for home-made composts. See card on first page.

Mr. A. J. Strickland, an old subscriber whom we advised to go to Durham last yesterday, he had always found business for himself and his family of 7 children. He was down in Raleigh with Mr. H. Tucker, buying goods for a new store in town. These gentlemen are both of Ragle Rock.

Senator Vance, Congressman Skinner, Gen. Clingman, Col. Stapler, Mr. Richmond Pearson and other North Carolinians called on Mr. Cleveland last week. The two first named went to present the Legislative resolution in favor of Thos. J. Jarvis. There were nearly five hundred other callers, a perfect swarm of busy bees; so Gov. Vance tarried only ten minutes, told a joke which made Mr. C. laugh heartily; and both parted well pleased. It is not very probable our State will receive a cabinet position; but perhaps it will help the State to have the matter talked about. North Carolina has not had such a position since Gov. Graham was Secretary of the Navy.

Capt. Dolly Browning has resigned as conductor on the W. & W. Road.
Farmers intending to raise Tobacco can get a full Treatise on the subject from Plant-Bed on, by calling upon Messrs. W. C. & A. B. Stronach, Raleigh. The pamphlet is free.

The card of Mr. H. Montague, of Winston, will be useful to the large number of persons who are looking towards the beautiful Piedmont region with a view to locating. There is perhaps no section of the South more healthy or prosperous. Mr. Montague is of the well known Wake county family and will be glad to give you any information desired.

The bill to allow trunk-line railroads to build branch roads in North Carolina, and to acquire stock in connecting roads, passed the Senate by vote of 22 to 15. It was amended, however, by Senator T. B. Twitty of Rutherford, to prohibit the Carolina Central from taking advantage of the act until that road has been completed to Rutherford, and also amended by Senator S. B. Alexander to make all such branch roads or other acquisitions liable to taxation, even tho' the trunk line at present be exempted.

Capt. Sam. C. White, who is a zealous Knight of Pythias, says the "Film Flam" have all gone out of the Ritual of that order, and that the ceremonies are of a very solemn nature. Well, it is not years since we peeped in the Lodge, and we reckon we struck the minute when the Royal Bumper was being led forth to Bump.

But it is a good order, and we hope to flourish. It seems, living at a distance, often these Philanthropic Societies help the fallen, watched by the sick, and buried the dead, in the large cities they would give all possible encouragement thereto.

Some new meat with curious accidents. Watchman Wm. Pressler at New Brunswick, N. J. had last week, he was sitting in a large factory just across the high railroad bridge. Suddenly there came an awful roar and clatter, and he saw twenty horses of all colors and sizes dropping down around the doors. Then a big freight car crashed through the roof, and tore out the end wall. Then a rain of fire came down and spread with lightning rapidity! Is it any wonder Pressler thought the crack of doom had caught him with his mouth full of mush!

Report says he sprang through the glass window, broke two ribs, and ran nearly a mile before he realized that he was not hit entirely.

Another curious thing that day was that the blazing oil tank into an underground sewer, followed it half a mile, and then came out and burned a factory (and a man in the factory) costing $200,000.

Thanks, Bro. Recorder, for the neat notice of Miss Rebecca Cameron's articles in the Farmer and Mechanic. Her writing several years past has been a regular correspondence of this paper, and though we have not been able to requite her talent and kindness by substantial rewards, such as prevail in larger and stronger journals, at the North, we feel sure there is no lack of appreciation on the part of our readers.

The article in another column relative to the APPLETONS has the merit of being patriotic gratitude; because we know this gifted young lady has no possible interest, save that of feeling (as the Farmer and Mechanic feels) that the noblest Southerner is the one whose memory for kindness done to our people in the hour of trial, is never weak.

As the march of the Fense Law teaches our people the advantage of keeping first class stock, so the progress of time, and market reports, tell the profit of the best bird of all—saving the sweet presence of a certain "Duck" whom every one of us knows is "too pretty to look at" in her Sunday clothes. Messrs. Poe & Boylan last week put in a big crane. It is a sight to behold. The crane can Queen (mentioned in another column) who answered to roll call with seven babies. It is to hatch, and cradle two or three hundred pretty chicks at a time.

Our young townsmen will deserve a vote of thanks from the next Universal Convocation of Conferences if they secure the abasement of old and scraggy fence corner chickens in favor of the plump PARTRIDGE COCHINS, Plymouth Rocks, and such like birds whose bones don't break your teeth.

A pamphlet, just issued by the national Association of Farmers, says: "There are the best and most careful of mothers, and tenderly nestle and scratch for their broods until the chicks are quite advanced in age, and the cocks of this breed are crossed on ordinary common hens, the product is almost entirely like the sire. This is due to the breed being an old established one, and the fact that the chicks are always raised in color and shape, shows the value of the Partridge Cochins as one of the best pure breeds for improving common flocks."

"Why don't you all push scales for a Cabinet Office? Gov. Cleveland would rather give him a chair than any man yet named from the State. I know what I am saying. You may not know that he has been S. in his mind for three months; he wants a man from our section. Maj. D., who I think is some kin to your old friend, will back me as to that. If North Carolina really wants a Department, she must put forward one of the squarrest men we have. From what I hear, we are fooling away our time. C. is a Democrat, but like yourself, he looks with disgust on the tricks and intrigues of politics."

"What action is best in the premises—though this matter has been mightily tangled by that poppy-headed editor named One thing I am sure of, Mr. C. would like to give a portfolio to North Carolina but not to any individual not existing in the ranks of the Attorney Generalship, and the fact that Albany says he will, certainly, we ought to get the P. O. D., or the Interior D., which I think could be of service to the South. They say that Mr. C. was mentioned to Mr. C., he just looked out of the window and remarked, 'It's a cold day!' It looks that way to the politicians. If Garland sets the Attorney Generalship, and the fact that Albany says he will, certainly, we ought to get the P. O. D., or the Interior D., which I think could be of service to the South. They say that Mr. C. was mentioned to Mr. C., he just looked out of the window and remarked, 'It's a cold day!'
